

ABOUT HOLLYWOOD

The Town of Hollywood was named for the Holly Trees that grew in the area. Twenty two people created the Town of Hollywood on Nov. 22, 1949. In the first election, Archie H Martin became mayor and remained mayor of the town for 20 years. G. C. Puckett, John Hardy, Carrie Main, Lela Dickerson, Herbert Gadson, Gerald Schuster, and Jacquelyn S. Heyward followed as Mayor of the Town of Hollywood. The Comprehensive Plan for the Town of Hollywood offers an extensive history of the Town.

Hollywood is a community located 15 miles south of City of Charleston on Highway 162 and encompasses 33 square miles with a population of approximately 5000 residents. The median income level is $30,297, which is $11,697 below the national average. The Low to Moderate Income level is at 54%.
